DRAFT AMENDMENT

21. (Currently Amended) A computer-implemented method of inserting a graphic onto a drawing page of a drawing software module installed on a computer, wherein the drawing software module is configured to access default graphic libraries, the method comprising:

maintaining on a local-area network an enterprise graphic library that includes content from a public graphic library accessible via a wide-area network, wherein the enterprise graphic library and the public graphic library are both remote from the computer, and wherein neither the enterprise graphic library nor the public graphic library is one of the default graphic libraries of the drawing software module; maintaining on the computer a local graphic library; configuring by a user the drawing software module to access the enterprise graphic libraries or the public graphic library in addition to the default graphic libraries of the drawing software module; receiving from the user a search term that describes a desired graphic and a selection of whether to search the local graphic library, a remote graphic library, or both; ~~at least one of the graphic libraries that the drawing software module has been configured to access;~~

when the user selects to search a remote graphic library, if the drawing software module has been configured to access the enterprise graphic library, identifying one or more graphics in the selected enterprise graphic libraries that match the received search term; and if the drawing software module has been configured to access the public graphic library, identifying one or more graphics in the public graphic library that match the received search term;

when the user selects to search a local graphic library, identifying one or more graphics in the local graphic library that match the received search term;
